MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Hill, parents of the groom, a shower was given on Friday evening, March 1st, in honor of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Hill. A number of relatives and friends were present. The bride and groom received many useful and beautiful gifts.

The following address was read by Miss Madeline Bailey, and also a poem entitled "Little Lady at the Altar," written by Edgar Guest:

Madoc, Ont., March 1, 1940.
Dear Warren and Vera:
We, your neighbors and friends are delighted to be here with you this evening to extend our best wishes for your future happiness.

You have known you, Warren, since childhood and have watched you grow into a capable young man. We have not known you, Vera, quite as long but have enjoyed your genial ways very much.

You are both on the threshold of a new life, a beautiful life together. There will be many problems and ever-changing conditions to challenge the best in each of you. It is our best wish for you both that you may stand firmly together and face the future confident in your united ability and strength.

Please accept these gifts as a token of our esteem and affection.

Signed on behalf of your friends: Gordon McCoy, Madeline Bailey, Lloyd Heyworth.
Mr. and Mrs. W. Hill unwrapped the presents and thanked their friends for their kindness. Then everyone joined in singing "For they are jolly good fellows." The remainder of the evening was spent in cards and dancing. A dainty lunch was served and the guests departed wishing the happy couple the best of everything.

CHAS. R. JOHNSTON ENTHUSIASTIC ABOUT NEW NORGE REFRIGERATORS

"At last I've seen the electric refrigerator, which, I believe, embodies everything that women have wished for," stated Mr. Charles R. Johnston, who is now holding a Norge "Preview Showing" at his store.

"The phrase—'From top to floor there's space galore!' continued Mr. Johnston, 'describes only one of the great new features in the famous Norge Rollator Refrigerators for 1940. Most usable and accessible food storage has been achieved without increasing exterior dimensions, plus a ventilated non-refrigerated 'Cellaret' storage compartment for packaged foods and bottled goods. Styling is the keynote; with Porcelain lifetime finish, if desired. A large odorproof sealed freezer for making pure ice cubes, preserving frozen foods, and making frozen desserts; sliding glass tops over the utility porcelain vegetable and fruit drawer to retain humidity; sliding shelves; glass utility left-over dishes and handy glass bottles for fruit juices, are only a few of the 42 advantages and convenience features which contribute to make the new Norge refrigerator the handsomest and greatest value I've ever seen. The new Hermetically sealed Rollator unit is powerful, yet quiet and because it is 'refrigerant-cooled,' the operating cost is reduced, and it is practically service-free and fool-proof."

Mr. Johnston invites all readers of The Review to visit his store during his Norge "Preview Showing" week, March 1st to March 9th, inclusive.

MADOC 3 - MARMORA 2

One of the worst hockey mix-ups this district has ever seen has developed in the Trent Valley League. At a meeting of the League held on Sunday afternoon last, which was untended by Madoc or Tweed, it was decided to allow all the teams in the league to take part in the play-offs. Madoc and Marmora were to play on Monday night as well as Bata and Stirling. The winners were to meet on Tuesday and the winners of this series to play Norwood on Wednesday.

Three games in three nights for some teams Madoc played Marmora and won 3-2 and were ordered to play Stirling, who had defeated Bata. Madoc refused on the grounds that Stirling had no right to take part in the play-offs as these games only included the first four teams. A delegation from Tweed, Madoc and Marmora spent yesterday afternoon in Campbellford and after 7 o'clock last night Madoc was told to play Norwood in the first of the best of three game series. When Madoc arrived in Norwood Stirling was already on the ice ready to play Norwood. Finally Madoc and Norwood played with Norwood winning 8-0, and Stirling left holding the bag. The second game of the series will be played in Madoc tomorrow night, unless the league officials decide something different between the time this is written and 8.15 tomorrow night. Local fans who attended Wednesday night's game claim Madoc was away off color and predict a win for the Black and Whites in the local Arena.

Tweed and Campbellford also met in the best of a three game series with Campbellford winning 6-5.

One of the most exciting and interesting games of the season was played between Marmora and Madoc on Monday night to decide who would enter the play-offs. The largest crowd of the season was on hand for the contest and all were well repaid for their attendance. Marmora opened the scoring after five minutes of play when Martin came out of the net. Madoc tied the count at the 18 minute mark when Heyworth scored. As the period ended Akey gave Madoc a one goal lead when he scored on Keller's pass.

The second period was scoreless, with both teams missing several good scoring chances from over anxiousness. In the third period, with four minutes left to play, Leonard tied the count when he went through a hole. Two minutes later Embury scored the winning counter when he took Keller's pass from close in.

As an aftermath of the Marmora-Madoc game which was well attended by Norwood players and fans, a donnybrook was staged on the main street of our village when fans from Madoc and Norwood, including several of the fair sex, decided to settle things in their own way. Several fistful encounters took place at the same time, with a large crowd present to watch proceedings. One elderly lady from Norwood stole the show when she used a cane she was carrying as her instrument of warfare. Fortunately or unfortunately, as you like, her combatants objected and destroyed the instrument before any serious damage was done.

RED CROSS NOTES

A business meeting of the Red Cross Society was held in the Community Hall on Wednesday, March 6, with the president, Mr. C. M. Wallbridge, in the chair. All accounts were ordered paid. Plans were discussed for an entertainment to be held in the Eastern Star hall.

The Society wishes to thank Mrs. O'Halloran for her services in connection with the Red Cross dance which was held in the Orange Hall.

The following donations are acknowledged with thanks: the sum of $2.00 from the Thursday afternoon bridge club, 3 quilts and 20 pairs of socks from the Red Cross unit of Hart's community.

The Financial Post predicts that during the fiscal year of war Canada's exports to Britain will reach a value of at least 550 million dollars made up of 350 millions' worth of foodstuffs, 110 millions' worth of base metals, nickel and aluminum, another 110 millions' worth of aeroplanes and accessories, 45 millions' worth of munitions and 20 millions' worth of lumber and miscellaneous commodities.

SHOULDER TO SHOULDER

You and he and I made, make, and can remake and unmake America.

You and he and I working shoulder to shoulder can again make for America the highest standard of excellence in modern civilizations, but only by observing our ethical responsibilities each to each other in their smallest and largest details.

But if you and he and I cannot or will not find a way to work together in simple decency, all that we have stood for and loved will decay and die.

I am going to try. Are you?—G.E. B. in Christian Science Monitor.

FEED THE BIRDS

Each year a friend reminds us to write an editorial reminding readers to think of the birds during the winter when so much snow is on the ground.

This habit of throwing bread crumbs in the back yard after each meal is simple to acquire, costs nothing but a minute amount of effort, and yet can mean so much.

Very little snow need fall to cover all natural sources of food for the feathered friends. A few crumbs may mean the difference between survival and death.

It is an act which all of us can perform at least once a day, and enjoy doing it, too.—Picton Gazette.

have now made their annual reports and discussed anew the state of the nation. What they see each year from their look-out towers is always worthy of note and this year's highlights are no exception. Of their institutions—they are ready and able to finance the demands of the country's war efforts. Of governments—an example of frugality should be set for the nation by the elimination of all unnecessary expenditures. Of the country—Canada is better fitted than most nations to meet the war's needs and consequences while Canadian investments remain among the best in the world. Of business—costs should be kept down and every ounce of productivity within the compass of Canadian industry should be exerted for the war effort. Of citizens—thrift and economy should be made Canadian watchwords. Here is sound comfort, good advice and a charted course for 1940.—Picton Gazette.

CONSUME MORE OF OUR OWN FOODS

Canadians should be thankful in this time of war that most of their food is produced in this country and would be well advised to make as wide a use as possible of Canadian foods. Laura C. Pepper, chief of the consumers' service of the marketing branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture told the Dairywomen's Association of Western Ontario at its annual convention.

With the exception of a few imported foods, such as tea, coffee, cocoa, citrus fruits and some of the sugar, Canada feeds itself, Miss Pepper pointed out. Wider use should be made of Canadian dairy products and Canadian wheat, especially for their dietary values.

Formed in 1937, the Canadian Council on Nutrition had carefully investigated Canada's food problem and had evolved a system of standard diets. These "balanced meals" were designed to promote national health and protect the population from diseases due to diet deficiencies. Milk and milk products took a prominent place in the standard diets.

WOOL IN WAR TIME

One of the great difficulties that a peaceful country like Canada ran into when war was declared, was to clothe the soldiers adequately and speedily, and some information as to the facts of the situation seems to be worthwhile. For Canada is a wool importing country. Most of the wool that we require at all times we have to get from abroad, notably from Australasia. Normally we import about 10 million pounds of raw wool alone, apart from yarns, etc.

An immense amount of wool, however, was required at once and the Canadian wool dealers and manufacturers turned over large stocks of their wool to the Government. The statement was made that the prices charged were fully 15 per cent below market value.

Large woollen manufacturers in Canada mobilized the entire industry to meet emergent conditions, and Canadian troops are now being supplied quality equipment, well fitting, and all manufactured in Canada. Less than two weeks from contracts to deliver, the Canadian soldiers and airmen had khaki and blue uniforms. Manufacturers are busy on production of over one million yards of uniform material.

CORNWALL YOUTH IS COMMITTED

Gerald Duval was committed for trial at Cornwall on an attempted murder charge after Chief Constable William Bertrand of Cornwall township, testified the 28 year old Newington amateur chemist admitted poisoning food and water in the home of Robert Young, Cornwall Centre farmer.

"I asked him if he intended to kill Young and he replied: 'No, I only wanted to scare him,'" said the chief constable as he told of questioning Duval.

Young discovered the water in a tea kettle had been tampered with after he returned from a dance early in the morning of January 12th. Later he became suspicious of some cheese and sugar and these along with a sample of the water were turned over to the police. Analysis showed the presence of bichloride of mercury in the water, strychnine in the sugar and carbolic acid on the cheese.

In a statement by Duval read in court, accused said he had met Young and a Miss Audrey Grant on a country road some time ago and that was the start of his animosity to the farmer whom he had known for 11 years. "It has been hell ever since," the statement added.

BILL TO GRANT QUEBEC WOMEN THE VOTE READY

Premier Adelard Godbout of Quebec said Friday a bill to grant Quebec women the vote in Provincial elections will be introduced in the Legislative Assembly probably in about three weeks. Women were promised the vote in the Throne Speech read at the opening of the Legislature last week.

"I shall probably sponsor the measure myself," the premier told newspapermen. "I cannot say yet exactly when it will come up, but it probably will be in about three weeks."

Extension of the suffrage, promised by the premier and his Liberal supporters last fall, will end a long fight by feminists of the province. The Provincial Lower House has rejected such a measure more than a dozen times.

The Throne Speech, read by Lieutenant Governor Fiset, disclosed government plans to grant women the vote because under modern conditions they "play an important part and their co-operation has become indispensable in bringing about much needed social reforms."

CBC THINGS TO COME

CBC program and production officials are busy working on several new programs to be heard over the CBC National Network during the next month. Commencing on March 14, the CBC will present the first in a series of special broadcasts entitled "In the Shadow of the Swastika." These hour-long broadcasts will be heard fortnightly, and are documentary pictures of Germany from 1919 to 1940, depicting the rise of Hitler and Nazism. The series of eight broadcasts will unfold in vivid dramatized form the rise to power of the Nazi party from a beer-hall clique to a menace to the peace of the world.

Several special Holy Week programs are now in preparation. On Thursday, March 21, a choral program from the CBC Montreal studios at 9:30 p.m. EST, will feature "Majets" by Palestrina. At 8:00 p.m. EST on Good Friday, National Network listeners will hear Rossini's "Stabat Mater" featuring soloists, chorus and orchestra, also from the Montreal studios. On Easter Sunday, the CBC is planning a special Easter broadcast for the period 9:00-10:00 p.m. EST.

MAIL SEARCH IS DISCUSSED

The New York Times recently urged Great Britain to heed American criticism of British interference with United States mails but at the same time urged Americans "not to lose a fair perspective in the present controversy."

United States mail destined for Germany and nations adjacent to the Reich have been removed from transatlantic clipper planes at Bermuda for inspection by British authorities and from United States vessels passing Gibraltar. The Times said editorially such contraband found in the mails is not worth Britain's running the risk of "alienating American sympathy."

Pointing out that Americans are criticizing Britain for interfering at Bermuda and Gibraltar, "with a right which we ourselves have waived willingly in the North Sea and the English Channel (by passing the Neutrality Act which forbids United States vessels from entering the war zone)" the Times lengthy editorial concluded.

"For some members of the Senate it is apparently all a matter of being ruthless enough. When Germany embarks on a savage policy of sinking neutral ships with attendant loss of life, these gentlemen submit to the threat, insist on bringing our ships home and call our act of self-denial a noble piece of legislation. But when Britain searches our mail for contraband they cry to the high heavens."

BRITISH PLANE LANDS IN BELGIUM AFTER LOSING WAY

The British Air Ministry announced Saturday that Royal Air Force planes flew over Prague Friday night, the second successive night that British fliers penetrated deep into Germany.

The ministry's communique said the flights were successfully completed. It was the third such expedition that British have disclosed since the start of the war.

Starting from bases in France, the British fliers flew Thursday night on reconnaissance over Austria and Bohemia. On the night of January 12 they scattered propaganda leaflets on Vienna and Prague.

One of the British planes failed to return on the communique said and it was later learned the craft had landed in Belgium when the pilot lost his bearings.

A dispatch from Brussels reported a damaged British plane came down in a beet field near Gembloux early Saturday and its crew of six were arrested.

The communique declared: "During last night extensive reconnaissance flights were carried out by the Royal Air Force over northwest Germany. One of our aircraft failed to return. It has been since ascertained that the pilot having lost his bearings had landed in Belgium."

FIRE DESTROYS FARM HOME AT HERMON, ONT.

Believed to have started from flying sparks from the chimney, fire totally destroyed the farm home and contents of Joseph Beaudrie, at Hermon, sixteen miles east of Bancroft at noon on Friday. A woodshed filled with wood was also destroyed while a nearby drive house and a large barn were saved by the efforts of neighbours who reduced several minor blazes when these buildings ignited.

The Beaudries lost their barn by fire four years ago. Very little of the contents of the house were saved, while the winter's supply of preserved fruits and raw vegetables stored in the cellar were lost.

Fanned by a strong wind blowing at the time, the flames, which broke out on the wooden shingled roof rapidly spread. By the time the Beaudrie family and neighbours attracted by clouds of smoke, arrived the top part of the building was a mass of flames.

Burning embers wind-driven, ignited the roofs of nearby buildings but these were saved. The metal roof of the large barn in which were housed livestock and horses, was responsible for its being saved from the flames, eye-witnesses stated. Loss was estimated at $2,500.00.

GERMAN PLANES PAY VISIT TO PARIS OUTSKIRTS

French military dispatches Saturday reported five squadrons of German scouting war planes had penetrated deep into France, some reaching the outskirts of Paris.

British and French planes also carried out reconnaissance missions, the dispatches said.

The French took many photographs over Germany, the dispatches added, while British planes patrolled the North Sea. No encounters were reported.

TWO LOWER FLOORS OF HOUSE STOLEN, UPPER STOREY LEFT

Imagine Building Commissioner James Finn's astonishment when Albany, N. Y., police reported two lower floors of a frame dwelling had been stolen.

"Incredible!" he exclaimed, rushing to the scene. But there it was, the upper storey of an untenanted house suspended between two adjoining buildings.

Thieves, Finn said, had systematically picked the structure clean as a bone, apparently moving parts for kindling wood.

CRYING OF BABY SAVES BRAMPTON FAMILY FROM SUFFOCATION

The crying of a two year old boy saved a family from being burned to death early Monday, according to his mother, Mrs. Kenneth McAllister of Brampton. The fire did $3,000 damage in the Golding Block, destroying all the clothing, household effects, radio store stock and furnishings, belonging to the McAllister family.

"It was the loud crying of George which roused us just in time," said Mrs. McAllister. "I was choked with smoke but roused by husband and we managed to get out."

FROM GOVERNMENT IN SIX YEARS

W. L. Somerville, Hamilton architect, has been paid $165,638 by the Ontario government since the present administration came into office in 1934, it was revealed Friday in questions answered in the Legislature votes and proceedings.

Among the fees paid were $126,894 for preparing the working drawings for the new Ontario Hospital near St. Thomas, $36,044 for work on the architectural restoration of old Fort Henry at Kingston (50 per cent being paid by the Dominion Government). Restoration of the fort cost $531,895 divided equally between the province and Dominion.

Answer to another question said special features of the new Henley Bridge at St. Catharines, commemorating the Royal visit, cost $49,704 (the Federal Government sharing it).

MADOC E "THE HOME"

CLIPPER PLANES TO FLY
DIRECT TO PORTUGAL

Delivery of uncensored mail to Europe solely through air channels appears likely as a result of an announcement of Pan-American Airways that its clipper planes will omit the Bermuda stop on flights to Portugal, starting March 15th.

The company made no mention of British contraband examination of mail at Bermuda which has caused criticism in some quarters in the United States. It gave as its reasons better weather conditions and the fact mid-Atlantic weather reports are being received from two United States coast guard vessels assigned to special duty.

The clippers thus return to their original route—direct across the Atlantic to Horta, the Azores—interrupted last October when they included Bermuda as a refuelling stop. Pan-American says the direct flight saves five hours.

Official air circles attached significance to the new policy which possibly may allow some American mail to reach Germany without Allied examination for contraband. Pan-American connects at Lisbon with Italian and French air lines. As yet, British air lines have not begun a Lisbon-London shuttle service to connect with the clippers.

The twice a week shuttle service of the company to Bermuda will not be affected.

The route of westbound flights, in which European mail bound for the United States is censored, continues as at present, the planes stopping at Bermuda.

FRENCH AND GERMANS ARE WATCHFUL
AS SPRING COMES

French and German troops, keeping close watch over each other with the approach of spring, have stepped up their patrol activities on the western front.

A sharp German raid was reported repulsed Monday in the Wissembourg Gap, which opens into France's Alsation plains along the Rhine. Both sides sent out scouting parties farther west in the Saar and Moselle valleys.

Monday mornings' French communiqué briefly noted "increased activity of contact units on various points of the front between the Moselle and the Saar."

Aerial observers kept pace with the land scouts. Two German reconnaissance flights were reported Sunday deep over eastern France, while the French fliers brought back photographs of German lines.

Spring-like weather turned snow and ice into a mass of mud along the front.

GEN. McNAUGHTON
TAKES OVER COMMAND OF ALDERSHOT AREA

Supervision of the administration of the entire Aldershot command was taken over by Major General A. G. L. McNaughton, General Officer commanding the Canadian Active Service Force on Monday.

He will be in charge of the area for the next six days while Lieut.-General Charles Broad, General Officer Commanding the Aldershot Command is away on a short leave of absence.

In the Canadian camp on Monday many regiments were filmed as they carried out a typical program of individual training. The films are being taken for the Canadian Government and will ultimately be deposited in the Canadian Archives as a permanent record.

The folks back home also will have the opportunity of viewing some scenes showing what the boys are doing overseas.

HORE-BELISHA URGES
SUPPORT FOR FINLAND
BY SEA, AIR AND LAND

Leslie Hore-Belisha, who recently resigned as War Secretary, urged Great Britain and France to support Finland by "sea, air and land" in a speech Monday to his constituents.

In his first public address since he was dropped from the War Cabinet December 5th, Mr. Hore-Belisha declared that the Finns continued resistance indicated "the might of Russia rests on insecure foundations" and added:

"The risk of helping Finland may be great, but the risk of not helping her may be greater, for this gallant country is fighting not for herself alone; she is holding the pass for civilization."

Mr. Hore-Belisha suggested that if Russia won she would not be satisfied with Finland and would also give Germany advantages in Scandinavia.

"Well-planned, adequate, decisive action now would curtail the duration of the war," he asserted.

MRS. PETER A. MAYBEE
DIES AT BLOOMFIELD

Death severed the golden cord of over three quarters of a century of marital happiness at noon Sunday when Mrs. Peter A. Maybee, co-partner in the Dominion of Canada's longest married couple, died at her home a few miles south-west of Bloomfield. Had Mrs. Maybee lived until March 15th, she with her husband would have celebrated the 77th anniversary of their wedding. The grand old lady was in her 95th year. Mr. Maybee is 97, and still hearty.

The late Mrs. Maybee had been ill for a year, and her passing while not entirely unexpected, has caused a wave of sadness over the entire district in which they had lived for the past 22 years.

Their fame was continent-wide and had even extended to far away England. Two years ago, and last year when they celebrated the 75th and 76th anniversaries of their wedding, they were the recipients of congratulations from His Majesty King George VI, Prime Minister Mackenzie King and other prominent personages.

BODIES OF FATHER
AND DAUGHTER TAKEN FROM ICE-BOUND WATERS

Bodies of Joseph Raffaele of Timmins and his nine year old daughter were taken from the ice-bound waters of the Mattagami River, near Timmins on Monday and police said they believed the two drowned Sunday when a truck in which the two were riding crashed through the ice.

The ice-covered truck also was taken from the river bottom Monday. Walter Wilson, owner of a dance hall in front of which the drownings occurred, said he noticed a large hole in the ice Sunday but thought it might have been made by boys while at play. Ice-cutting operations had been under way in the district the past three weeks, he said, and in some places the ice was thin.

Police endeavored to piece together more details of the drownings but believe they occurred before noon Sunday.

BRITISH SKIPPER
ASTONISHES CAPTORS

Viscountess Astor told the Golf Union a new story about the Graf Spee Wednesday which, she said, had been recounted to her by an officer of H. M. S. Exeter, one of the cruisers which participated in the battle with the German raider.

The story concerned one of the merchant skippers held prisoner on the Graf Spee. Although his ship was about to be blown up, the skipper went back to his cabin for his golf clubs and came aboard the Graf Spee with the bag slung over his shoulders.

The moment he reached the raider's deck, he astonished his captors by asking them to send a message to Montevideo cancelling an engagement he had made for a golf match there the following week-end.

Lady Astor did not say whether the Germans sent the message.

WINNIPEG MAN
GOES ON TRIAL
IN ENGELBERG DEATH

Ernest Kehler, 24, Winnipeg Canadian prize fighter, went on trial in King's County Court at New York Tuesday on a charge of first degree murder in the slaying December 6th of Dr. Walter Engelberg, German Consulate Secretary.

Police quoted Kehler as admitting he bludgeoned the German when the latter made improper advances to him in Engelberg's home in Brooklyn.

The first venieman was asked whether he would be prejudiced by the fact that Engelberg was connected with the Nazi regime and was a homosexual. He said no, but was challenged by the defence.

Kehler was arrested in Toronto two weeks after the killing.

DANCER SAYS
GERMANS BELIEVE
U. K. IS STARVING

Germans believe that eight British ships are being sunk daily and that the people of the United Kingdom are starving. This was revealed recently by Joy Rogers, young English dancer who was one of the eight Britons exchanged for Germans held in England.

When she arrived home she was surprised to find her mother did not need the food she had saved by self-denial during her trip to Germany—two tins of sardines, meat extract cubes, cocoa and sugar. These were given her by the Red Cross.

Mrs. Tillie Irelan, 35, Philadelphia, who pleaded guilty to smothering her 20 month old son and dismembering his body was convicted of murder in the first degree Wednesday and sentenced to die in the electric chair.

TWO GIRLS DIE
IN QUEBEC FIRE,
THREE INJURED

A 20 year old girl who was to have been married Saturday morning and her 22 year old sister were identified tentatively at Quebec Saturday as victims of a three hour fire which left three other persons in hospital after racing through three lower town buildings.

Dr. Paul V. Marceau, district coroner, said it was believed the two corpses taken to the morgue early Saturday were those of Bertha Pilote, the bride-to-be, and her sister Delvina of either St. Malachie or St. Edouard de Brantford, Que.

The younger girl was to have married Private Jean Morin of the Chaudier Regiment in St. Jean Baptiste Church, Morin was injured in making his escape from one of the flaming structures.

Hospital authorities, meanwhile, described as serious the condition of Noel Kirouac, 26; Morin, 28, both of whom suffered fractured legs, and Beatrice Ward, 27, who suffered burns and cuts. The two men were injured in leaps from the third storey of one of the houses.

"The two dead girls probably were killed by smoke rather than burns," Dr. Marceau said. Their identity has not yet been definitely established, but the authorities are getting in touch with the parish priests of the towns from which they are thought to have come.

Breaking out in the early morning hours, the flames spread quickly through a three-storey stone building containing three stores under lodging quarters, and to two adjoining stone houses. About 20 persons were forced to flee the buildings.

It was believed damages would total several thousand dollars.

CHEESE FACTORY
OPENED MONDAY

In view of district farmers' willingness to co-operate with the government's appeal for the production of more cheese, and the existing high price of the commodity, officials of the Frankford Cheese Company started 1940 manufacturing operations on Monday, Russell Embury, cheesemaker, has announced.

The date of commencement of operations establishes a record for the company, being two months in advance of any previous starting date, he said. Next year, Mr. Embury added, the plant will be in twelve months operation if the current year's early starting meets with any degree of success.

Centrality of location, in the large surrounding districts, from which the supply of milk will be drawn, will enable farmers outside the range of the regular patrons of the company to bring their milk to the plant. Milk producers of Murray and Sidney Townships, who sell their milk ordinarily to other factories now non-operating, will be asked to contribute their production, Mr. Embury stated.

The existing price of cheese which ranges between 18 and 19 cents, should urge producers and patrons alike to further cheese-producing efforts, he added. Thus far, no other factories in this district, most of which are located in rural sections, have signified their intentions of starting manufacturing operations before regular spring dates.

ACCEPTING DARE RESULTS
IN FALL AND A BROKEN LEG

Falling from one of the steel supporting rods at the top of the Picton arena to the ice, about 35 feet below, Hutton Martin of Greenbush, suffered a broken leg and a broken wrist, Tuesday night of last week. He is in Prince Edward County Hospital.

Martin, it is claimed, had accepted a dare of fellow-skaters to cross the rink hand over hand on one of the long iron rods. Starting from one balcony, he climbed upward several feet to where the bar ran across to the other side of the rink. He had nearly reached the other side when he fell. "He took a dare from another boy to climb a steel supporting rod and go across the rink, hand over hand, by means of an iron rod an inch thick that stretches across between the galleries," said Albert Hare, rink manager.

"The rink is 54 feet across and the boy must have tired as he tried to cross," he said. "He fell, and in falling his skate cut the electric light wire but he did not suffer a shock. He had a bump the size of a hen's egg on his head and his leg was broken."

"I thought it was a fight," said Mr. Hare. "I ran down the ice. I noticed the wire was loose, and I kept the crowd away from it."

POLICE SEIZE
ANTI-WAR BILLS;
TRIO ARRESTED

Acting under the Defence of Canada regulations, Ottawa police detected and raided a suspected source of Communist anti-war propaganda within the sound of bells of the Peace Tower on Parliament Hill.

As a result three men are in custody charged either with printing or distributing or both literature forbidden by the regulations, in particular a pamphlet headed:

"Withdraw Canada from the war."

"Speed the end of the slaughter."

"Vote Communist. Vote for peace."

The men are: Harry Binder, Communist party organizer for Eastern Ontario and former Parliamentary correspondent for the newspaper "Daily Clarion," once published in Toronto.

Louis Binder, Harry's brother, a private in the Royal Canadian Engineers.

Arthur Roy Saunders, an employee of the Insurance Department of the Federal Government.

RECEIVES REPLY
FROM NOTE PUT IN STOCKING

Mrs. Arnold Ackerman of Elmbrook is the recipient of a letter written by a member of the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment stationed in Quebec. The letter was written in answer to a note placed by Mrs. Ackerman in a pair of socks knitted by her for the Elmbrook War Emergency Committee. These socks were handed in at the County Secretary's office and were among the large quantities sent by them to the Picton Armouries for the soldiers before leaving for Quebec for further training. This is the first letter from this source, received at Elmbrook and it is very encouraging to the home war workers to know by whom their socks are received and appreciated. —Picton Times.

R. S. Lambert, whose talks on "Old Country Mail" are a regular CBC Sunday presentation, certainly started something when he spoke about knitting mitts for the Air Force. Requests for instructions poured in from all parts of Canada; the postman's bag was weighed down with letters from listeners in British Columbia and Nova Scotia, and there were even some from the United States. However, Mr. Lambert is used to having a large pile of mail, because his broadcast, heard over the CBC National Network at 1.00 p.m. EST. Sundays, is based on interesting items about civilian life in Britain, which listeners send him, drawn from their own correspondence with friends and relatives in the Old Country.

COE HILL

Private Ivan Gunter, who left in January for England, writes to his parents a description of his crossing etc. Below are excerpts from his letter:

Grand scenery around eastern Quebec and New Brunswick. The hills are all over and not like our hills. They seem to lift straight up on all sides from rolling land, somewhat like large bluffs and Ivan suggested they would make wonderful skiing. The boat which carried them across was large and they occupied first class cabins on "C" deck and a first class state room with private bath. Ivan and another soldier planned to swim over to the next boat which had 700 nurses aboard. So we see that Ivan is still running true to his nature of liking the company of the ladies. The sea voyage was somewhat rough, but few were sea sick. Five ships and five men-of-war and destroyers were in the convoy. Their ship was fast and smooth riding and positions of the convoy were changed each seven minutes. They had life boat drill at 10 each morning. They arrived in Northern Scotland, safely, and on by train to Aldershot, where he met Clayton Wilson and several other Coe Hill boys. He went on a six days' leave to London where he spent a good time. Evidently the English cigarettes do not suit. He claims they are weak and make them sleepy instead of pepping them up. The weather, which has been cold, is becoming warmer and all seem to be happy. Ivan intends visiting cousins living near London, also Mrs. Butcher

Keep Canada's War Effort United!

Experienced Leaders are VITAL for VICTORY

In six months of war the Mackenzie King Administration has set an unprecedented record of getting things done without fuss and fury. Under its steady leadership, Canada has gone ahead on all fronts—war, economic and domestic. With clear heads and with feet on the ground, this group of purposeful men is making every ounce of Canada's weight felt in our fight for freedom. What it has done has been done thoroughly; there has been no loose thinking; no half-measures; no waste of men, money or materials.

Some of the Mackenzie King Administration Wartime Accomplishments

It united Canada as never before—Every province is heart and soul behind the Empire's war effort this time, thanks to the Administration's truly national policies.

The First Division, completely equipped, has been sent overseas to a Mother country prepared to receive it.

The Second Division is recruited, equipped and ready to go over.

The great Empire Air Training Scheme—sponsored and mainly financed by Canada, has been launched on a planned and ordered basis.

Naval Defence for both East and West Coasts including Air Force, Mine Sweepers and Convoying, has functioned efficiently since the outbreak of War. Of it, a Senior British Naval Authority has said: "No finer work is being done anywhere by the Royal Navy itself."

Price Control of all commodities, including such vital necessities as wool and sugar, has been established, with prices pegged low for the poor man. The profiteer is out, and will be kept out—in marked contrast to the free-for-all of the last war.

Shipping Control and Foreign Exchange Control are firmly established on sound lines and are functioning smoothly and effectively.

A $200,000,000 War Loan was over-subscribed within two days of its launching, a record that proves public confidence. Its reasonable rate of 3½% contrasts with 5½% tax-free rate of the last war.

Political and Private Patronage has been stamped out: merit is the sole basis for selection or promotion in our armed forces.

On March 26th show your faith; vote for the Candidate supporting Mackenzie King and help make sure there can be no break in Canada's steadfast stand in these critical times.

BELLEVILLE MARKET
SATURDAY

Choice young broiler chickens for the second consecutive week stole the limelight at the Belleville market on Saturday where a small offering of produce was displayed by vendors. Of good quality, although slightly under the average weight of this table delicacy, the birds sold rapidly at $1.00 the pair.

June and July birds were also in fair demand with weighty roosters bringing from $1.10 to $1.30 each. A few seven pound chickens were sold at 20 cents the pound. Fowl brought up to 75 cents each and a few ducks found buyers at $1.00 the bird. A lone turkey, of excellent quality, and which weighed in the vicinity of 15 pounds, was offered at $3.75, but up until a late hour no takers had put in an appearance.

Other prices were generally firm. Egg quotations were steady with Grade "A" selects selling at 25 cents the dozen. Stocks were much heavier than those of the previous week with buying tones being generally bright. Mediums were quoted at 22 cents the dozen.

Farmers' butter sold at 30 cents per pound, with two-pound rolls going at 55 cents. Four-pound quantities of haves were sold in pails at 35 cents. Sauerkraut was quoted at 10 cents the quart.

Farmer vendors reported a plentiful supply of potatoes which sold at $1.00 for 75 pound bag lots. "There will be plenty for spring consumption," one vendor remarked, prophesying a further decline in price. Other vegetables however maintained their high levels of the past two weeks, with parsnips offered at $1. the bushel and carrots beets and turnips ranging between 80 cents and 90 cents for the same quantity.

Said to be at the peak of their tastiness, Northern Spy apples were offered at $1.45 for ring-packed hamper lots. Stark Delicious sold at 10 cents less for No. 1 grade, while domestics in both varieties were offered at $1. per bushel. Tolman Sweet, Russets and a few cooking varieties sold at the same prices.

Whitefish was fairly plentiful, selling well at 20 cents the pound. Fresh mudcats brought 15 cents the pound, while fresh pike demanded 10 cents. A few lake herring sold at seven fish for 25 cents.

Farmers again offered their young pigs in profusion with prices ranging between $5. and $6. each.

Included in the new list are Millbrook, Norwood, Marmora, Bancroft, Omemee, Cannington, Deloro, Frankford, Hastings and Orono.

Many other villages throughout the province have been brought within the scope of the legislation making compulsory the pasteurization of milk.

BOB WRIGHT, MARMORA,
YOUNGEST SOLDIER
IN C. A. S. F.

In the daily press and over the radio considerable attention was given to Earl De Forge who it was claimed was Canada's youngest soldier. Daniel Alexander Earle De Forge, to give him his full name, enlisted at Sault Ste. Marie and went overseas as a member of No. 1 Platoon, Employment Battalion, C. A. S. F. He is now at Aldershot, England, and the question of his age came into prominence as a result of receiving a package addressed to the youngest soldier in the Canadian forces.

Earl De Forge joined the Navy League at the age of 11. When he was 16 he left the Navy League and joined the Sault Ste. Marie and Sudbury Militia Regiment. When war broke out the regiment was called to mount guard on the Sault ship canal and Earl reported for duty. Later he enlisted for service overseas. Coming of a family in which most of the men have served as soldiers it seemed only natural that he should enlist at the earliest opportunity.

As a matter of fact Earl De Forge is not the youngest soldier in the Canadian army in England by several months. As far as can be learned that honor belongs to "Bob" Wright, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Wright of Marmora. "Bob" celebrated his 17th birthday Sunday, February 25, 1940, at Aldershot Camp, England. A year ago he was attending school in Marmora, quitting shortly after he reached the age where school attendance is compulsory. While his father is a veteran of the Great War, Bob apparently took no interest in military life previous to the appeal for recruits for the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment.

DELORO S. & R. CO. LTD.
HAVE BIG
EXPANSION PROGRAM

Several new buildings are being constructed at the plant of the Deloro Smelting and Refining Company, Ltd. and we are advised that the addition to the Cobalt Oxide Plant is under way. This building will be used to treat the cobalt residues from South Africa which will be treated at Deloro.

There is also being installed a considerable amount of new equipment in the present Oxide Plant which will allow the Deloro Company to increase their output of Cobalt Oxide.

A further building is being constructed for the treatment of cobalt metal which the Deloro Company will in future be required to produce.

The new buildings and additions are being rushed to completion as the Deloro Company has to be in production on their new process in the early summer.

This increased activity at Deloro means much to the Marmora district, as a large number of the Deloro employees reside in this village.—Marmora Herald.

13 SURVIVORS
OF DUTCH SHIP
BROUGHT TO PORT

Captain William Christie of the freighter Glengorchy Friday night brought to Britain 13 survivors of the torpedoed Netherlands vessel Den Haag, 8,971 tons, and told how he almost ignored their lifeboat because no one seemed to be in it.

The men turned described how, exhausted, they had given up hope of being rescued and had stretched out to die on the bottom of the boat.

Their rescue hinged on a blast of the Glengorchy's whistle. This is the story Captain Christie told:

Homeward bound from the Far East, the Glengorchy passed through a large patch of oil floating on the water and half an hour later Captain Christie sighted an open boat about 80 miles off the Spanish coast.

A fresh breeze lashed the rough seas and there was no sign of life in the small boat. Captain Christie ordered the helmsman to circle around the boat and sound his whistle.

The boat suddenly came to life with heads and waving arms appearing over the gunwales.

It contained the captain, chief engineer and nine seamen of the Netherlands motor tanker Den Haag, which was torpedoed without warning by a German submarine while en route from New York to Rotterdam, February 15th.

A LETTER FROM
ALDERSHOT, ENGLAND

Aldershot, England.
February 9, 1940.

Dear Mother and Dad:
I received your letter tonight and was sure glad to hear from you. I got five letters today. Blake is still waiting to see when he will have his operation. He isn't able to go on parade at all now.

We just buried one of our boys from Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment. His name was Keach. He left a wife and two children. It was a nice funeral. We marched to the hospital then to the cemetery. More boys landed here this morning from Picton. They had a nice trip and they weren't sick like we were. They said you had lots of snow over home. There isn't any snow here now but lots of rain. We had one big snow storm but it only stayed a few days. It is a little colder today but the grass is nice and green. Some days here it is just like July over home. Blake and I are going up to London this week-end.

We got a letter from Mrs. Smith where we went for dinner and supper last leave and she wants us to go there again to have dinner and supper with her and her son Roy. They are nice people. They send us magazines to read. How are Jean, Harry and all?

We haven't had any mail in two weeks. I got a snap of the King when he was here. I am in it, too. He was right in front of me. If I can I will send you one.

We are getting lots of drill now, from 8 until 12; from 1.30 until 4.30, so we don't have much time for anything. How is the price of hogs, etc. over home? It sure is dear enough here. I was moved downstairs the other day and like it much better. It is not so noisy.

We are going out on route marches at night now. It's not so nice in the black-out. One of the boys ran into a brick building and skinned his face all up. Some nights we don't get in until ten o'clock, then we got hot soup before retiring. We went through gas chamber today. It was tear gas. Did it ever make tears run. It's good for a cold. I went swimming on Monday. It was nice but a little cold. They have a tank about sixty feet long and eight feet deep. Tell Dad he should be here to go hunting. I saw some hunters out with about 35 hounds. They sure looked nice running over the hills. Some of the hunters were on horse-back. I wished I was there too. I miss the horses here. We were out on field drill when we saw them. They have nice horses in London. They do all deliveries there with horses instead of trucks. Gas is too dear and they are only allowed so much gas a week. Well, I'm going down to see Blake.

February 13th.
I didn't get your letter mailed. I just had my dinner. I got a letter from you yesterday. We got our boxes you sent and everything was fine. The dried venison was good. We also got Madoc papers you sent us. Well, bugle is calling so will finish this tonight. Blake and I went down town tonight. He is fine, mother, only he can't stand parade or drilling. We have to go to fire ranges tomorrow. We get up at 4 o'clock and leave at six. We were up to London last week end. We were to Mrs. Smith's for dinner and supper again. She mended my gloves and gave us each a lunch to eat on the train. Aldershot is 35 miles from London. Roy gave us each a large package of cigarettes. I like my work better than at first. I got more mail today, letters from Sadie, Jean, Harry, Vera and you. Will you please thank all who have written Blake and I or sent parcels.

Well, it is late and I want to write Vera yet, so will close. Please print address on letters and parcels. With love to both, your loving son, Pte. Wilbur McCoy.

THREE ARRESTED
AFTER CACHE OF GOODS IS FOUND

Three men are in police custody following the discovery in a private garage at Toronto of an alleged cache of clothing stolen from a general store at Shelburne, Dufferin County. William Radford, 25, of Wingham, and Cecil Black, 34, of Toronto, who walked into the arms of police officers hidden in the garage, were charged with breaking into the store last Sunday. A third man escaped over back fences at the time but a suspect later was taken into custody on a Vagrancy charge.

Thirty-five stitches were required to close head wounds of Constable Alex. Petch who was beaten by the persons who robbed the Shelburne store. He attempted to grapple with the thieves, who beat him unconscious.

COOPER AND REMINGTON W. I.

The monthly meeting of Cooper and Remington Women's Institute was held on Wednesday of last week with a good attendance. The meeting opened by singing the Institute Ode and community singing and was followed with a two-minute silence in memory of the late Governor General. The roll was answered by "My favorite song and composer."

The hostess then gave her favorite poem. It was decided to have a pot luck dinner. Letters of appreciation and thanks were read from several members. It was decided to send our soldier boys, Oscar and Harold White-man and Thomas Ash, boxes in the near future. The January motto was given by Mrs. Gordon Chapman and the December motto by Mrs. Joseph Rollins, they not being present at the previous meetings. The February motto prepared by Mrs. G. Graham was well given by Mrs. J. Wood. The topic, "What truly constitutes true neighborliness—How I obtained it—Do I appreciate it?" was given by Mrs. S. Rollins. Mrs. H. McCoy favored with an instrumental. A reading, "Just a Married Woman," by Mrs. H. McCoy, a reading, "Origin of St. Patrick," by Mrs. R. Greenly completed the program. Mrs. Fred Irwin then gave a paper on Postal Service. Mrs. E. Moore led in a discussion on storing furs. Mrs. A. Parks was the winner for the exhibit of woolen articles.

The meeting closed by singing "Good Night Ladies," and the Mizpah benediction. A very dainty lunch was served by the hostess and her assistants.

OVER 1,000 BAGS OF PARCELS ARRIVE FOR CANADIANS

For eight days without interruption 14 men of the first division postal unit under Lieut. R. A. Hadden of Ottawa have been distributing a flood of cheer that troops of the Canadian Active Service Force are not finding hard to take.

The cheer is mail from home in the heaviest and most constant stream since the first batch of Canadians arrived on the other side. Every morning boat brought its quota and postal men have been working as much as 20 hours a day to avoid being swamped.

During the week more than 1,000 bags of parcels alone have been sorted and delivered in addition to hundreds of bags of letters and newspapers. Even the heavy accumulation of Christmas and New Year mail did not approach this volume.

Among the parcels was one addressed: "To the youngest soldier with the Canadian forces." It came from the Meaford, Ont., branch of the Canadian Girls in Training.

The lad who received the gift was Private Earl A. DeForge, of Beachburg, Ont., now serving in the divisional headquarters employment platoon. His attestation papers lists DeForge as 18, the minimum age for enlistment, but as he looks much younger, he earned the nod.

The parcel contained a flashlight which tickled the youngster as he did not have one. He is going to write to thank the girls.

But all mail addressed to the Canadian camp does not come from home. More than 900 letters have been received from United Kingdom residents anxious to get in touch with relatives and friends they have reason to believe now are serving with the C.A.S.F.

Most are anxious to offer the hospitality of their homes to the boys while several seek word about members of their families who migrated years ago and forgot to write home.

One optimist pointed out that the man he is tracing borrowed 52 shillings sumpence during the last war and "I have not heard from him since, but probably if I locate him he won't mind repaying me with small interest."

Sergeant-Major A. H. Hagar of Ottawa, chief clerk of divisional headquarters, has taken over the task of trying to untangle these problems. He admits it is tough to find someone's cousin "who has been farming for years in western Canada."

In practically every instance the writer can offer no further clue to the party sought than the name.

$20,000 LOSS

AT WARKWORTH

Fire that destroyed three buildings and threatened the entire village of Warkworth Thursday afternoon, was under control at 2:45 p.m., a report from the Northumberland village stated. The fire said to be the worst in the history of the village, completely gutted the stores of G. Mitchell, W. Allen and the residence of Miss B. Morrison and partially damaged the general store of J. Dixon.

The blazing Dixon store was saved from being completely gutted as Campbellford fire squads assisted by villagers battled in a successful attempt to reduce the blaze that had broken out in various parts of the store.

Fire apparatus and crews of the Peterborough Fire Department arrived later but the danger of the flames spreading had been averted by this time.

Streets of the village were littered with household effects as frightened villagers hastily removed furniture and private belongings in case of a general conflagration. Roofs of several buildings were ignited by flying embers but residents distinguished the minor blazes without damage. Loss was estimated at $20,000.

LOOKING FORWARD

TO FIRST FLIGHT

IN ENGLISH AIR

The men of the first squadron of the R.C.A.F. in England completed the job of settling down in their headquarters at a Royal Air Force Station in the south of England.

They arrived during Sunday night by a special train direct from the harbor of the northwest coast port where they landed Sunday evening. They were up early working with zest after the comparative inactivity of the Atlantic voyage.

All the men were reported to be fit and well, looking forward to their first flight in "English air."

The location of the station is at present a military secret. But it can be said to be in pleasant countryside.

5 NEW BATTLESHIPS SOON TO JOIN FLEET SAYS CHURCHILL

Two of Britain's biggest battleships, the 35,000 ton Barham and the flag-ship Nelson, 33,950 tons, are under repair at naval yards after being damaged by enemy action. Winston Churchill disclosed in the House of Commons Tuesday.

Without disclosing when or where, the First Lord of the Admiralty said the Barham, which was completed in 1915, had been hit by a torpedo and that the fifteen year old Nelson struck by a magnetic mine.

Both ships were able to proceed to port under their own steam and soon will be commissioned again. He made no mention of casualties.

Mr. Churchill added that apart from the battleships Royal Oak and the aircraft carrier Courageous, which were lost early in the war, and the Nelson and Barham, "no other large ships have been damaged or sunk since the outbreak of war or during these very difficult winter months."

Mr. Churchill disclosed that the Royal Navy had not had to use Scapa Flow since the battleship Royal Oak was sunk there October 13 with a loss of 810 lives.

He predicted intensification of the sea war and declared that the fleet soon would be reinforced by five modern battleships.

In connection with the Barham, it was recalled that on December 29 it was disclosed that a battleship of the Queen Elizabeth class had been damaged by a torpedo and that three men had been killed. The Barham is of the Queen Elizabeth class.

The Nelson was able to make port under her own steam, Mr. Churchill said.

"This secret, of which many thousands of people were necessarily aware, was very well kept and has only just leaked out into Germany after it has ceased to have any importance," he added.

The First Lord said the five new battleships of the King George V class would give Britain 16 battleships—the largest fleet in the world—in addition to three battle cruisers.

These ships are capable of standing up to the air bomb and are far better adapted to underwater explosions than anything we have today," he said.

"If we had not got at the present time unquestioned superiority in battleships, the German heavy cruisers would come out into the Atlantic Ocean and, without fear of being brought to account, would be able to obstruct, if not arrest, the whole of the enormous trade without which we could not live."

"Happily we have far greater strength in capital ships than the enemy and if at any time they break out, as they may do, we always are ready to meet them with much larger forces and bring them to battle and destroy them."

SPRING IN AIR

AT ALDERSHOT

Spring is in the air and with it the spirits of the Canadians have soared to the heights. Almost forgotten is the recent cold spell which brought in its wake a mild outbreak of colds and flu. Plumbing problems are at an end and in most barracks the men have been able to discard that extra blanket which winter made necessary. As the troops marched along the highways on routine exercise Wednesday they filled the air with cheerful songs which brought out the citizens in hamlets and villages.

During the lunch interval the parade and recreation grounds throughout the Canadian training area echoed with the familiar cries of baseball as the boys enjoyed their first real workout chasing "flies" or playing catch. Already teams have been lined up with challenges tossed from unit to unit. Plans are also afoot to organize divisional softball and soccer leagues. Spring in February is a new experience for most of these Canucks and they are making the best of it while it lasts.

Few of the men are aware of it, but they will receive a most welcome surprise before the day ends. Hundreds of bags of mail arrived from home Wednesday morning and for hours the divisional postal staff has been busy with the big job of unloading and sorting.

A strong possibility that a Belleville Boys' Band will represent the Dominion of Canada at the International World's Championship "Soap Box Derby" to be held in Akron, Ohio this summer, was voiced recently by officials of the Belleville-Kinmen Club, sponsors of the Belleville district Soap Box Derby since their inception there a few years ago.

FRENCH DECREES REDUCE MENU

French civilians, taking stock of the government's new belt-tightening program, Friday night found themselves facing sharp restrictions on what they may eat and drink six days out of every seven.

The restrictions, announced in 17 decrees covering public sale and consumption will affect the Frenchman's diet every day in the week except Sunday—and even then there are limits on the amount of certain foods which may be consumed.

The weekly calendar of war-time prohibitions stacks up this way: Monday—No beer, mutton or veal dishes.

Tuesday—No beef, no pastry, candy or ice cream and no spirits or the cordials which the French call aperitif. Wine is not yet mentioned in the restrictions.

Wednesday—Still no pastry, candy or ice cream.

Thursday—Another drinkless day so far as spirits are concerned.

Friday—No meat and no pastry or sweets.

Saturday—Pay day, but no alcohol. Although there are no prohibitions on the kinds of food or drink which the Frenchman can obtain on Sundays he is limited to two main dishes at each meal and only one of these can be meat. If statants will limit the amount of bread he can get—if he has a bread card after rationing starts.

These general restrictions also forbid the serving of side dishes of butter, unless they are a regular part of the main dishes.

The regulations on that are already in effect. The remaining regulations will become effective when government officials issue necessary orders to restaurants, cafes and stores.

Restaurant menus will grow smaller. On days when there is no meat prohibition the menu can list only two soups or hors d'oeuvres and not more than four different kinds of the latter; one egg dish, three kinds of fish, oysters or snails; two kinds of vegetables or macaroni, spaghetti or noodles, and three kinds of meat. Cafe proprietors are not yet informed as to whether the three-day weekly alcoholic drought will start immediately. They are figuring, however, that on dry days they will still do a good business in popular fruit juices, mineral waters and coffee—if it is available.

As a prelude to the issuing of ration cards, a generous census was ordered completed by April 1. It was expected that the first ration cards would cover bread consumption.

Other decrees provided for rationing of gasoline on a monthly basis and ordered prices maintained at the level of September 1, 1939.

SINGLE NAVAL LOSS OCCURS IN WEEK-END OF BRITISH VICTORIES

The Admiralty announced Monday that the destroyer Daring had been torpedoed and sunk, the sole British naval loss in a week-end of sea warfare which brought a spectacular series of victories to the Royal Navy.

Sinking of the Daring, with 157 men feared lost, was announced as Britons were cheering the exploits of their navy's week-end exploits which left the Nazi prison ship Altmark grounded on the Norwegian coast and her 300 or more seamen captives liberated, two German merchantmen captured by the blockade patrol and one German merchantman scuttled.

One officer and four seamen of the Daring were picked up, but nine other officers and 148 seamen were lost from the seven-year-old "defender" class destroyer.

ALLIES TO WIN FIRST

GREAT BATTLE IF LET COMPLETE PLANS

If Germany permits the allies to complete their preparations for attack, Germany will have lost the first great battle of the war before it is fought. Lieut.-General Horst von Mettch, German military writer, warned Monday in the Nazi publication Deutsche Adelsblatt, copies of which reached Switzerland Monday.

"If the western powers can marshal their armies to bring them to the strength necessary for an attack without being hindered by the German forces, then the allies can on that score already consider the first important battle—or rather the first western campaign—of this war is won," wrote the general.

He warned against excessive optimism on Germany's part, declaring the German-Soviet economic deal would begin to operate only in the more or less distant future, while before that Germany would have immense and difficult tasks to fulfil.

RUDDER BROKEN, BRITISH PLANE CROSSES NORTH SEA

An official release Monday told of how a Royal Air Force pilot had flown across the North Sea and landed safely in England after a fight with a German bomber which damaged its rudder so it could not be used.

The German plane was reported to badly damaged to take advantage of its crippled adversary. The pilot was not named, but the plane was said to have had a crew of three.

The crew of a Bristol Blenheim bomber told how they outmanoeuvred five speedy German Messerschmitt pursuit planes over the North Sea Saturday and escaped into the clouds with valuable photographs of German naval bases. The Blenheim was hit six times but none of the crew was injured.

The British Air Ministry reported the incident in the following brief communiqué:

"Aircraft of the Royal Air Force yesterday carried out a reconnaissance flight over Heligoland Bight and Northwest Germany. One aircraft was attacked by five German Messerschmitts. Having repulsed six separate attacks, our aircraft returned safely."

In the first instance the three men of the crew chose to risk their lives to bring the valuable craft down at its home base rather than jump to safety after a precarious three-hour flight had brought them back to England.

GIRL RESCUING

VICTIM OF FIRE TEST

IS HERSELF RESCUED

Joan Trickey, rushing to a date with her boy friend, saw flames bursting from a house in Margate, England.

Joan, a brave girl, didn't give her date a second thought. She dashed into the house to see whether there was anyone to be rescued.

Lying on the floor wearing a gas mask, but apparently overcome, was a man, Joan made for him.

The man got up and carried Joan from the burning house. He was Fire Chief Alfred Twyman, playing the part of the "victim" in an auxiliary fire service test. Then he went back to be rescued himself.

INJURED MAN TAKEN TO HOSPITAL

Alex. Wadsworth, 26 year old farmer residing fifteen miles north of Bancroft, critically injured when a tree fell on him in the woods owned by Ernest Reeves, a neighbor, was removed from Reeves' home and taken to Bancroft Red Cross Hospital on Saturday.

His condition, according to attending physicians, is still very serious, and while he changed slightly for the better overnight, little hope is held out for his recovery.

PILOT INTERRUPTS GAME TO OBTAIN PICTURES OF SECRET GERMAN BASE

The pilot threw down his ping pong bat—he was ahead too, for the first time in days—and dashed off to dress for a grimmer game, played 34,000 feet above the earth with death keeping the score.

He returned a few hours later with a dozen German planes alighting murderously on his tail and a store of precious plates in his cameraman's machine.

It started when a report by a secret agent back from the German side, said important movements of troops, material and even planes were going on. Indicating with his forefinger two spots on a headquarters map, he said: "It is here or here—certainly within a radius of six miles."

But where? The map guarded its secret well; the agent had told all he knew. Only planes could reveal the exact spot.

So on receipt of a coded order the pilot abandoned his ping pong game, rushed to his quarters and reappeared ready for winter flight above the clouds. His cumbersome suit was threaded with electric wires to keep him warm at below zero temperatures. His gloved hands spoke for him with clumsy gestures.

Half an hour later he was above his goal, 24,000 feet up. The cameraman sat methodically about his business.

As the plane wheeled for home, its task accomplished, tiny black spots appeared in the sky in the distance. The men counted. One—two—12 German fighters.

"Shall I dive or climb?" the pilot called to the chief observer. The observer shrugged. "It's up to you."

The plane climbed. Up—up—26,000, 28,000, 30,000 feet. The black dots grew. There were three machine guns in the plane, and the enemy had 36.

Thirty-four thousand feet now, and the pack was still gaining. But they were not yet in gun range—and far beneath. The Rhine moved eastward past the wings. The plane was over home soil. The enemy wheeled and headed back toward the Reich.

The pilot returned to his ping pong game and the colonel examined magnified prints of the photographs taken on the flight. He ran his finger along a representation of two faint ruts, leading across a field between a highway and a wood. In that wood the enemy lay hidden.

But not hidden now. The colonel spoke into his telephone. Gunners calculated ranges. One quiet word and the wood would be unrecognizable.

FOX TERRIER

SAVES OWNER'S LIFE

Bingo, a nine year old fox terrier, was acclaimed as a hero at Guelph on Tuesday. He mounted guard at the top of an open manhole, Monday while his elderly master lay unconscious on the floor nine feet below, and prevented workers from dumping a load of coal down the opening.

George D. Sleeman, 70, of Guelph, owner of Bingo, said Tuesday he believed the dog's actions saved his life. Sleeman was walking with the dog when he fell through the coal chute in the storehouse of the Guelph water-works.

Bingo set up a continuous barking when a truck carrying four tons of coal backed up to the chute. Truckers attempted to chase him away but failed and investigation disclosed Sleeman on the floor directly beneath the coal hole. He suffered no serious injury.

HAMBURG-AMERICAN

STEAMSHIP ORIZABA

REPORTED AGROUND

The 4,354 ton Hamburg-American steamship Orizaba, put into service only nine months ago, was reported Monday to have gone aground at Skjervoy, near Hammerfest, on the north coast of Norway.

The crew were reported saved, but the ship was said to be sinking.

The Orizaba was reported to have come from the United States by way of Spain to Hammerfest, which port it left Sunday.

ADMITTS TWO WIVES

IN SAME HOUSEHOLD

A 29 year old produce company employee of Lubbock, Texas, admitted recently that he maintained two wives in the same household.

G. E. Brown, held on a bigamy charge, was quoted by District Attorney Burks as saying he married the first time in 1929 and the second time in 1937.

In a written statement Brown said he had three children by his first wife and one by the second.

Burks said a sister of the first wife precipitated the investigation.

TWO ADMIT THEFT OF CAMP UTENSILS

Acting on a complaint from Harold and James Elliott, sons of Thomas Elliott of West Huntingdon, who are jobbing for G. W. Jones of Bancroft, in Bruden Township, Provincial Constable Palmateer and Game Overseer Inwood of Combermere drove by car Saturday morning, February 24th, into the Bruden Lumber Camps. From there they snowshoed a distance of seven miles to Big Rainy Lake to the camp of Curtis Helmer, aged 31, of Madawaska and George Saunders, 27, of Lake St. Peter, who were trapping in the vicinity. Helmer and Saunders were accused of stealing blankets, camp utensils, saws, etc., from the camp of the Elliott boys.

Upon being questioned both Helmer and Saunders admitted, so police state stealing the goods on February 17th and stolen articles from their hiding place. Provincial Constable Palmateer immediately placed both men under arrest and gathering up the allegedly stolen goods they made their return journey to the Elliott lumber camp and thence home. Some difficulty was experienced on the homeward journey as Boulder Lake, which constituted a part of the winter draw road, was flooded badly due to the weight of the logs, which were dumped there and going was disagreeable in these conditions with the car.

To lend a bit of natural environment to the homeward trek from camp to the car Mr. Palmateer and Mr. Inwood had the pleasure of hearing the wail and howl of timber wolves. Helmer and Saunders were lodged in Bancroft jail Saturday night and were later remanded for trial, which will take place at a later date.

WAR ZONE BROADENING SAYS YORKSHIRE POST

Possible extension of the war between Germany and the Allies to Scandinavia, becoming one with the Russo-Finnish conflict, was discussed Monday by the military correspondent of the Yorkshire Post.

"The position is obscure but the points are distinct," he said. "The war zone is broadening. Possession of the Norwegian coast is the future gage of battle."

"Can we forestall events and help Finland more than we are doing without going to war with Russia? The case for intervention gathers force every day and against it has to be considered what Germany would gain by dispersing the Allied forces over the world."

Allied intervention would be effective, he said, only if Norway and Sweden entered the war at Finland's side.

"In whatever way the northern problem drifts," the military correspondent continued, "the main concern of Germany is the Swedish ore fields, and these may be the cause of war. The ore is vital to her and she will fight for it. If iron ore became as scarce as oil, defeat would face her."

"The operations in Finland cannot fail to have some effect on Hitler's decision about a spring offensive. To get locked up with the Allied armies now would be a false move, in view of the possibilities in the north."

2 RAIDING PLANES

BROUGHT DOWN OFF BRITISH COAST

The British Air Ministry announced Tuesday that two raiding German planes had been shot down off Britain's coasts as the German air force apparently resumed its wide-spread coastal raiding.

One of the raiders, a Heinkel bomber, was downed by a patrol of the Royal Air Force fighter command off the mouth of the Firth of Forth shortly before 1 p.m. (7 a.m. EST).

That waterway, leading to the city of Edinburgh, and the Rosyth naval base, has been a frequent target for German raids. The Air Ministry communique said: "Early this afternoon a fighter craft of the Royal Air Force shot down a second Heinkel off the coast of Northumberland. Three members of the crew of the enemy aircraft were seen to take to a rubber boat."

An earlier communique announced the first Heinkel was shot down off the Firth of Forth.

The number of German raiders shot down off the coast of Britain since the war began is now 43. Nine others are believed to have failed to reach home.

BLACKOUT MISTAKE

Mistaking a bridge for a station platform when his train stopped on it in the blackout, Thomas Gillings of Blaydon, England, stepped out and fell 20 feet into the icy Tyne River. He swam to shore and ran home, suffering no harm.

Many readers are looking for rooms such as you may have vacant. Why not advertise.

TORONTO RESIDENT OWES HIS LIFE TO UNKNOWN PERSON

Nazar Thomas of Toronto, said on Tuesday that he owed his life to an unknown person who smashed the front door of his store early Monday and awakened him. Fire destroyed the interior of the store.

"I would probably have been burned alive if he hadn't shouted to me," Thomas said. "I would like to know who it was."

Thomas said he singed his hair in an attempt to reach the front door and then tried to squeeze through the iron bars on a rear window. He got stuck half way and felt the fire burning his legs before he got free.

He ran into a washroom, smashed a window and clambered through, falling into a bank of snow. Following treatment for burns at a hospital, he was released.

DUKE AND DUCHESS OF GLOUCESTER MAY COME TO OTTAWA

Tips on the next Governor General of Canada have been frequent in the gossip columns of London newspapers in recent weeks, but few writers seem to realize that a decision on the appointment rests with Ottawa.

An exception is "A Londoner's Diary," in the Evening Standard on Tuesday which said that according to usually well-informed sources a "movement is on foot to promote the appointment of Lord Chatfield," Minister of Coordination of Defence in the war cabinet.

"But only if Prime Minister MacKenzie King approves," the writer added, "will there be a vacant pew in the cabinet room at Downing street. The Canadian people would prefer to have the Duke and Duchess of Gloucester installed at Ottawa."

SIX PARISIANS ARE WOUNDED

Six Parisians were wounded by an anti-aircraft shell that was fired on Monday night at German planes scouting the environs of Paris for massed squadrons that flew over the capital area early Tuesday.

The air raid incident, most serious of its kind since three persons were wounded there November 13, sent one of the victims, 39 year old Leon Manach, to a hospital for amputation of his right leg.

The exploding shell, digging a hole two feet deep in the street, pelted surrounding buildings with fragments. It fell near the left banks Censier-Daubenton subway stations. The persons wounded were in the Rue Mirbel, a Latin quarter thoroughfare.

All were taken to hospitals, but only Manach remained.

WAS HORNED OWL

The mad owl of Roger Lake has finally been classified as a Virginia horned owl and not a screech owl as it was believed to be by local people.

The Canadian International Paper Company, whose special constable, J. A. Charlebois, trapped the bird, sent the carcass to Montreal to be stuffed and mounted. There O. Bogart, taxidermist of the House of Leoro, identified the four pound bird. The paper company will keep it as a reminder of the month when it scared forty lumberjacks so badly two policemen had to be sent 55 miles into the bush to destroy it.

Several men were scratched dangerously close to the eyes as the owl swooped down from the trees, attacking them. Bogart believes lumberjacks drove the owl to taking lumbermen's caps from their heads, believing they were small animals.

SHE GAVE A RADIO TO SWISS GUARDSMEN

Three Swiss soldiers told a woman who frequently walked by their post near the resort of Gunten that the only thing worrying them about mobilization, apart from being absent from their jobs, was boredom.

The woman left Gunten shortly afterward to return to her home in the principality of Liechtenstein, the little "postage stamp" country next to Switzerland's eastern frontier. She left the soldiers a large and modern radio set bearing a plaque inscribed: "To the dear, courageous soldiers of the frontier guard with most grateful greetings and warmest wishes.—Elsa, Duchess of Liechtenstein."

JUST LIKE THAT!

Farmer John Fink of Allentown, Pa., gaped when an airplane taxied up to his back door and a youthful pilot casually asked:

"How do I get to Allentown-Bethlehem airport?"

Mr. Fink gave the information and, still gaping, watched the plane take off from a patch of pasture.

Invite Them All

Many a non-advertising retailer refrains from advertising because he feels that it is necessary to advertise in a big way and that he is not ready to do that.

To keep back from our newspaper until you are ready to use big space is about as foolish as to keep a child out of school until he had the ability to pass the matriculation examination.

Pull of a Small Advertisement

Beginners in every form of enterprise should go warily; until experience, practice and growing ability warrant their attempting larger things they should proceed in a cautious manner.

Begin with a Small Space

It would pay some retailers to use the Classified Advertisements and small spaces of two or three inches. Make the Small Advertisements quote Special Merchandise. Change them frequently. A quick succession of little advertisements, every one of which is alive, will effect sales and attract new customers. The great thing to be afraid of is inertia—a retail store which does not talk to the public by means of newspaper advertisements misses a whole lot of business.

FLOODS THREATEN TO BREAK LEVEES

The crest of a northern California flood moved southward along the Sacramento River Saturday, leaving a trail of inundated towns and ranches and threatening to burst levees down-river.

Two towns were practically submerged, many others had inundated sections, two persons were dead, thousands of acres of farm lands were under water and more than 4,000 persons were homeless.

To Sacramento, Meteorologist E. H. Fletcher said he had been informed levees at Princeton and Butte City might go out, spreading water over new areas.

The towns of Gerber and Tehama were nearly covered by flood waters. The 500 residents of Gerber and 300 at Tehama had to abandon their homes.

North of the stricken towns the river was falling. The weather bureau forecast clear or clearing weather for the immediate future after four days of heavy rains.

ICE BREAKERS WORK UP ST. LAWRENCE

The Ice-breakers N. B. McLean and Lady Grey, working up the St. Lawrence River from Three Rivers, are expected to reach Montreal about March 17th if their present schedule is maintained, officials said on Monday.

Ice encountered on the river has averaged about ten inches thinner than last year when the ships reached Montreal near the end of March, officials said. Both ships are expected to reach Sorel Wednesday.

BRANTFORD EXPOSITOR OWNED BY PRESTONS FOR FIFTY YEARS

Members of the staff of Brantford Expositor gathered with former members at a banquet recently in honor of W. B. Preston, president and managing director of the newspaper, marking the 50th anniversary of the day on which the publishing concern was taken over by the Preston family.

Fifty years ago last Saturday Thomas Hiram Preston, returning from the west after being managing editor of the Winnipeg Sun, became proprietor of the Expositor. His son, W. B. Preston, is a former president of the Canadian Press and of the Canadian Daily Newspaper Association.

Among speakers at the dinner were two former members of the Expositor, W. Rupert Davies, president of the Kingston Whig-Standard and of The Canadian Press, and E. Roy Sayles, editor of the Renfrew Mercury.

In pleading for leniency, defence council William Schreiber stated that the act was done in a moment of great stress and strain caused by the criticism of a nervous wife. "Bashing a woman over the head is no way to cure her of nervousness," said the magistrate.
